ORGANIZED YESTERDAY

Association of Master Builders Formed.

OUDERKIRK IS PRESIDENT

Eight Hour Agreement Ratified and Other Work is Outlined.

The adjourned meeting of the Builders, Contractors and Mill-men was held yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the office of J. Ouderkirk, King street. Eighteen members of the organization which was effected October 31, were present. J. Lucas presided, and A. Harrison acted as secretary.

It was moved that the report of the committee on organization be accepted as a whole and that they be thanked for their services. This was done. The report was as follows:

Honolulu, November 7, 1900.

Meeting of the committee appointed by Chairman J. Lucas on organizing a Builders' Association met at 9 a. m. and the following named persons were present: Chairman J. Ouderkirk, Secretary A. Harrison, Craig, Hoffman, Wilhelm.

I. After consideration of the subject it was resolved that we organize as a "Master Builders' Association."

II. Name to be Master Builders' Association of the Territory of Hawaii.

III. Objects of the Association.—To form an association of all the master builders of the Territory of Hawaii whose vocation connects them wholly with the interest of building.

IV. That the purposes for which such association is formed are as follows: To wit: To join in one association all the master builders of good repute doing business in the Territory of Hawaii, whose vocation connects them wholly or generally with the industry of building as an employing contractor in any branch of the building business.

To establish and maintain among the persons so associated a just and equitable system of dealing and a uniformity in commercial usages.

To acquire, preserve and disseminate valuable information and statistics which may be of use to any or all of the several trades engaged in the building business.

To procure by lease or rent, and furnish, provide and regulate and maintain, suitable rooms for the use of its members and for the meeting of this body, for officers, and other purposes.

To establish and enforce a system of arbitration for the settlement of disputes or misunderstandings which may arise between its members or be connected with the various trades in which its members are engaged; said system to be in accordance with the by-laws of this association.

To adjust differences and settle disputes between members or between members and others.

To promote and secure the mutual improvement and advancement and welfare of all mechanical and industrial interests and all artisans in their several vocations, to the end that membership in the association may be an assurance to the public of skill, honorable reputation and probity.

The said association shall have power to make all necessary rules, laws, regulations and by-laws for the use and government of the Master Builders' Association of the Territory of Hawaii, and for the members thereof.

V. That the place where the principal business of said association is to be transacted is Honolulu, Oahu, Territory of Hawaii.

VI. That the administrative officers shall be composed of a president, vice president, treasurer, auditor, secretary.

This committee recommends that at the first annual meeting of this body that the president be empowered to name a committee of three to draft by-laws to govern said body.

Upon motion the members present proceeded to effect a permanent organization. Nominations were made as follows: President, J. Ouderkirk; vice president, J. Lucas; treasurer, F. Wilhelm; secretary, A. Harrison; auditor, William Mutch. Ballots being taken the above were declared elected.

A motion was made that for uniformity the journeymen commence work at 7 a. m. An amendment that the hour be changed to 8 o'clock, prevailed upon being put to vote.

It was moved that the eight-hour day refer to the men who made the demand—the carpenters and their helpers—and was carried.

The meeting then adjourned until Wednesday, November 21, at the same time and place.

A QUEER QUEST.

Was Entertained and Then Departed at His Host's Expense.

W. C. Achi has found that the entertainment of certain of his friends is a costly habit. During the election days a friend was given the freedom of his home. Mr. Achi, on the day following the election was among the passengers listed on the Kinau for Hawaii. As Mr. Achi was in Honolulu the next day, publication of his failure to get away was made.

Yesterday morning a bill from the steamship company for his passage to Hawaii was received by him and upon investigation he found that the guest he had entertained had used the name of Mr. Achi to get his ticket to the big island.

Has Money Coming.

Captain Rodd, master of the bark Domestica, which sailed hence a couple of weeks ago, has money coming to him. He bet big money on Wilcox and made several side bets on the elections, all of which he has won. He wins $750.

HOW SAN FRANCISCO VIEWS HONOLULU'S THEATRICALS

THE following from the San Francisco Wasp of November 3 pictures a startling condition of affairs in theatricals here but one of which rumors have been common for many months:

The young woman who is overcome by the fascinating glamor of the footlights only too frequently has her illusions rudely dispelled when brought into actual contact with some of the correlative experiences of the stage. Not long ago a lady of considerable social standing and prominence in this city was carried away with the idea that her forte lay in the tangled mazes of the dramatic profession. After taking a course of study in this line, she made her debut at one of the local theatres, and scored a moderate triumph. Success turned her head, and it was not long before the divorce courts had rid her of the incumbence of a husband. Recently she received a note from a dramatic agency, that there was an engagement open for her acceptance at a foreign playhouse, with a salary attachment of $100 a week. This was a glittering offer, and the actress lost no time in arriving at the agency, where the agent explained that the scene of labor was in Honolulu and the proprietor of the playhouse was in an adjoining room ready to conclude the contract.

This individual, whom we will call Jake Lignite, was called in and, after the formalities of an introduction were concluded, the dramatic agent stepped out to permit the two to talk over the arrangements. Lignite was straight and to the point; he lost no time over preliminaries, and when the actress mentioned that she understood the salary was to be fixed at $100 per week, Lignite gave a hoarse laugh and declared the sum was mentioned to make sure of the lady's calling at the agency, in order to accept of what was a still more glittering proposition.

"No," said Lignite, "I only guarantee $30, but my sakes alive, you'll clean up a fortune in Honolulu. We'll go down together on the steamer, and when we get to the islands I'll point out all the easy things about town. Honolulu is full of suckers," rattled off the loquacious Lignite, "and you can coin money. You know Miss So and So, the fascinating little soubrette? Well, I took her across to the islands, and although the company went to pieces and everybody was stranded, she left with all the money she could pack away, besides jewels and other things the easy guys just showered on her, and she never left me, either."

The stage struck applicant was appalled at this proposed deflection from the straight, professional path, and so overcome with consternation at such an open and avowed blending of the Muse with Cleopatra's orgies, that she was struck dumb. Of course, the lady indignantly left the room, and Lignite is astonished that anyone could possibly throw away such a grand opportunity to make a fortune. "And it is so easy to work those Honolulu guys," he says.

THE QUEEN WAS AT WILCOX LUAU

Liliuokalani Went to Laie With Independent Leaders Yesterday.

Queen Liliuokalani went to Laie on yesterday morning's train with the members of the Independent party. The party consisted of Delegate-elect R. W. Wilcox, D. Kalaupokalani, J. K. Kaula, John Emmelhuth, Robert Boyd, J. K. Nakookoo, S. K. Pua, K. A. Aldin, William Moesman, J. K. Prendergast, William White and many others.

A luau at Laie, the Mormon settlement, was the occasion, and at the last moment the Queen determined to accompany the Independent candidates, elected and defeated, and assist in the ratification of the Independent victory.

The Queen was the guest of honor and her presence among the natives was hailed with joy. She came to the station in her carriage and was escorted to a private car by Wilcox. She entered into the spirit of the excursion with a gusto which was warmly applauded by her people.

Tonight another luau will be given in their honor at Wailua and the return to Honolulu will be made Friday.

On Saturday night a torchlight procession followed by a big luau, will take place under the auspices of the Independent party. John Emmelhuth is at the head of the committee on arrangements and the following letter from J. A. Kennedy, chairman of the Republican party to Emmelhuth, shows that the Home Rulers intend to make the procession one that will be remembered:

Honolulu, T. H., Nov. 13, 1900.

Mr. John Emmelhuth, Committee on Torches, Home Rule Party.

Dear Sir: Replying to your favor of November 12 as to the terms on which the Republican party would join the Home Rule party their torches to be used in a torchlight parade next Monday night, the Republican party agreeably complies with your request and willingly tenders the Home Rule party the use of their torches for the parade, without any conditions except their return.

Very truly yours,

[Signed.] JAMES A. KENNEDY, Chairman Executive Committee Republican Party.

PROPERTY TAXES.

They Must be Paid Today or be Subject to Penalty.

If property taxes are not paid into the Assessor's office by the end of this afternoon they will be subject to a penalty of 10 per cent of the amount. It behooves the property owner to make a visit to Assessor Shaw and pungle up the charges against his property. Otherwise a few of the profits on future rents will be necessary to pay the delinquent taxes.

FOOTBALL TEAM OF THE ARTILLERY

Makeup of the Good Eleven Which Will Try Hard for Gridiron Honors.

The football team of the Sixth Artillery was organized and coached by George Bullock. George West is acting as manager.

The team contains five green men. Three of the present line-up learned their football with the Artillery and are now playing their second season. The remaining three are men of past football experience in the States.

The average weight of the team is 165 pounds.

Since their defeat last Saturday by the Malle Ilmas, the team has put in two hours' hard practice every day and will undoubtedly show a marked improvement in their match next Saturday with Punahou College. Dunlavey, who played full-back last Saturday, has been replaced by Williamson.

Kuhns, the captain of the team, has played football since 1896. He played two seasons with the Frankfurt, Ind. team and two seasons with the Union City, Ind., High School. He weighs 160 pounds.

Williamson, 170 pounds, played one season with the University of Chicago.

Kaminsky, 165 pounds, played one season for the Kankakee, Ill., Athletic Club.
